

Together we can protect the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge

The Sacred Place Where Life Begins

Gwich'in Women Speak

Luncheon and Film Screening

Friday, June 19th at Noon
122 C Street NW, Ste 240

2015 Bicycle Film Tour Kickoff

Hear voices of Arctic indigenous Gwich'in women who call to action to protect their sacred land from oil drilling within our public land – Arctic National Wildlife Refuge in Alaska.

A 20 minutes film screening, followed by discussion with Miho Aida, director and cyclist who is riding 1,000 miles with her film from DC to Maine this summer, and Sarah James, Board Member, Gwich'in Steering Committee.

RSVP to Brian McLane at brian@alaskawild.org